Weather
Clear and mild. The maximum temperature yesterday was 50.6 and the minimum 46.5, the figures for the corresponding day last year being 62.4 and 42.7.

TAG DAY TODAY EXPECTED TO NET BIG FAMINE FUND

Four Thousand Students To Seek Contributions Throughout City

OTHER ACTIVITIES AID

French School To Give Benefit Program; Tea Dance Success

Four thousand students, equipped with distinctive arm-badges, tags and money boxes, will be found this morning after 8:30 o'clock spread throughout the city of Shanghai—including Pootung, Chapel and the Chinese City—soliciting for contributions to aid the famine ridden populace of the Northern provinces.

It will be the greatest, most carefully planned movement which the students of Shanghai have ever promoted and every confidence is expressed in its success. Regularly delegated teams from the different schools will conduct the work and the city has been laid off into zones of activity which have been delegated to the various teams. Not only have the Government schools and the Protestant Christian schools united for this culminating feature of the Famine Relief Drive but several Catholic institutions have also joined and will be represented in the groups of taggers. The tagging activites will continue throughout the day, until 6 p.m.

45 SCHOOLS REPRESENTED

Over 45 schools will be represented in the groupings. Y. E. Hsiao, student secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and P. T. Zung, of St. John's University, deserve great credit for the planning of the day, while the committee work and the interest shown by the various schools also calls for high praise.

The Famine Relief Committee wish to assure the public that its representatives have been in close conference with the students and that the thoroughness of the organisation insures that every cent collected will reach the Committee. A strong squad of inspectors has been appointed to see that no imposters do any tagging.

Groups of collectors will be found at the corners of all of the principal thoroughfares and shops and homes will also be visited for contributions from those whose occupations keep them within doors. Collectors will also be found at the Chinese theaters and other places of amusement.

WILL BE SUPERVISED

The travelling supervisors, 200 in number, will be Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. secretaries, school and college teachers.

Each of the nine main divisions of the city will have its own headquarters, at which tags and boxes will be distributed and receipted for, and the head offices will be at the Chinese Y.M.C.A., where a staff will be in charge to meet any emergency.

EXPECT TO TAG 200,000

It was estimated yesterday that a minimum of 200,000 persons will make contributions during the day and it is hoped that the number may reach 300,000. Any amount of money will be acceptable, from one copper up, but it is pointed out that a dollar will fill a larger space in the box and will go a great deal farther than the smaller coin to alleviate the suffering in the famine areas. Contributors are asked to insert the coin themselves in the bamboo banks which the taggers will carry. All the banks will be sent in to the Famine Committee tonight.

The student's famine relief tag day idea was conceived by the Shanghai College Y.M.C.A. league last December and since that time organisation for the day has gone steadily forward. An association was formed, of which the following is the list of officers:

Chairman, Mr. P. T. Zung, St. John's University; vice-chairman, Mr. T. S. Yui, Tong Chi Medical school; secretary—Chinese, Mr. K. Z. Wong, Provincial second normal school; secretary—English, Mr. L. T. How, McTyeire School; treasurers, Mr. K. Y. Tu, Shanghai College and Miss K. Y. Hok, St. Mary's Hall.

Social Committee.—Mr. T. W. Lin, chairman, St. John's University; Mr. T. S. Yui, Tong Chi School; Mr. D. T. L[illegible]tan College; Mr. S. T. W[illegible]dhurst School; Miss [illegible]. Bridgeman school; Miss [illegible] Yang, Eliza Yates [illegible]; Miss Z. L. Chang, Y.W.C.A. [illegible] School.

MISS Marya Wilzckowa, Madame Sofia Moracrewska and Miss Irene Kosmowska, three of the eight women recently elected as members of the Polish Diet at Warsaw. Miss Wilzckowa is a peasant woman and was sent to the Diet to work for better schools in the part of Poland that was formerly German. Miss Kosmowska is a radical and represents Lublin in the Diet. Mme. Sofia Moracrewska is the wife of Poland's first Premier under the Treaty of Versailles.

GERMANY WILL SEEK MARKETS IN EAST EUROPE

Berlin Hopes To Avoid Payments To Allies By Opening New Trade Outlets

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, March 17.—Addressing a meeting of the Imperial Economic Council, the Minister of Economics, Herr Scholz, declared that, in view of the Allied penalties, German trade must seek fresh channels. He expressed the hope that eastern Europe would be able to absorb German goods and he foreshadowed in this connection the extension of the list of exportable articles, the decontrol of prices and the gradual abolition of the export duty.

Dr. von Simons in a speech anticipated the resumption of negotiations with the Entente, and declared that the work of reconstruction must be placed in the forefront of Germany's counter-proposals. A most comprehensive plan should be formulated for the reconstruction of the devastated regions by means of German labor, which might form security for a loan.

Paris, March 18.—The Chamber has endorsed M. Briand's action at the London Conference by 491 votes to 66. The Premier's speech has been everywhere received enthusiastically.

AUSTRIA GETS REPRIEVE FROM TREATY PENALTY

Four Powers Agree To Postponement Of Payments And May Make New Loans

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 17.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Austen Cahmberlain announced that Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan had intimated to Austria that they were prepared to postpone the payments due from her under the Treaty of St. Germain and also the payment of the capital and interest on advances made to Austria since the armistice, in order to avert starvation in that country.

The whole of Austria's assets had been hitherto pledged as security for these payments but the above suspensions will release these assets and the League of Nations will determine what fresh gold advances may be made to Austria upon them.

The four Allies have also undertaken, at the forthcoming conference, to propose means of help to effect an improvement in the economic conditions that are at present prejudicing Central Europe. Furthermore, they will endeavor to ensure to Austria a continued and increased supply of coal.

British Obtain Charter To Aid Trade In Interior; First Granted In History

An important new means for developing British trade and industry and owning property of all kinds in any part of China has been provided by the Chinese Government in the form of a charter which has been granted in response to a petition made by two prominent Englishmen in the Far East, ably supported by the Commercial Secretary to the British Legation in Peking. Mr. C. A. W. Rose, C.I.E.

The British signatures to the petition were subscribed jointly with those of several highly placed Chinese well known to the Legation and having exceptional authority and influence on all matters of finance, industry and commerce in China.

This event is of considerable significance as it is the first time in history that British interests have been granted a charter from the Chinese Government, having such unique privileges and wide scope as this one possesses.

In granting this charter the Chinese Government does not abrogate any of its powers as a government but issues a mandate giving full authority to the petitioners to form a corporation having half Chinese and half British capital operating under its own agreed articles of association and bye laws, copies of which will be filed in the British Legation in Peking and the Chinese Ministry of Commerce.

MAY BUY LAND

Hitherto the most serious drawback to the expansion of trade and industry in China has been the inability of foreigners to own land and property outside the Treaty ports and the Chinese are now becoming alive to the fact that such restrictions are serious obstacles to the advancement of their country.

The new chartered corporation is now in process of formation and it is anticipated that it will be ready for business at about the same time that the recently instituted new four-power loan

RIOTS IN TOKIO! DIET THREATENED! CABINET QUAKES!

Move To Censure Government For Manchurian Mismanagement Fails

MEMBERS THROWN OUT

Great Disorder At Rival Mass Meetings In Park; Cabinet May Fall

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 17.—The House of Representatives today debated the Opposition's resolution censuring the Government for its share of responsibility for the alleged corruption on a large scale in the management of the South Manchurian Railways, it being contended that the corrupt directors are appointees of the Seiyukai Government.

The proceedings led to an uproar and a scene of pandemonium that has seldom been paralleled even in the House of Representatives, where disorderly scenes have become increasingly common. The Speaker prohibited several members from speaking and others were ejected from the floor of the House. The public galleries were packed, and even the standing room was fully occupied.

The Premier, Mr. Hara, replying to what could be heard of the speeches supporting the motion, said the railway affair was at present the subject of judicial investigation, but he maintained that, even if the connections between the Seiyukai and the Railway were granted, the Government was not responsible for the management of the Railway.

The motion of censure was defeated by the absolute majority of the Ministerialists.

During the day the Seiyukai held a mass meeting in Hibiya Park, and the Kenseikai held a counter-demonstration in the grounds of the Sanno Shrine, at which there were over 10,000 people. A hostile element was present, and this gave rise to scenes of disorder. The speakers were pulled down, and the platform smashed by Seiyukai stalwarts.

A large body of police turned out, and effected many arrests. Tonight an army of over a thousand police is guarding the Diet buildings. Crowds of Government opponents are running through the streets, and making noisy demonstrations.

It is the general opinion that the days of the present Cabinet are numbered.

EARTHQUAKES IN KANSU CONTINUE

Relief Party Starts From Peking To Investigate; Drysdale Is Member

(Staff Wire To THE CHINA PRESS)

Pingliang, March 13.—The earthquakes which started in this city a month ago are still on. Great distress reigns among the people in the effected areas. Many bodies remain unburied and it is feared that plague may set in unless immediate relief is given.

Peking, March 18.—A committee was despatched from Peking today to investigate the famine in Shensi and the earthquake conditions in Kansu. The committee is accompanied by Col. W. S. Drysdale, military attache to the American Legation in Peking.

Travellers from Kansu state that conditions resulting from earthquakes are worse than they were anticipated. The quakes are continuing and a large number of cities have been destroyed. The committee, therefore, is proceeding to Kansu immediately.

BRITISH TO KEEP WARSHIPS IDLE TO SAVE EXPENSE

Fuel Allowances at All Stations Will Be Restricted, Commons Told

FOUR NEW "HOOD" SHIPS

Motion To Expand Navy In Keeping With Other Powers Defeated

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 17.—In the House of Commons today, Sir James Craig, introducing the naval estimates, dwelt on the economies effected, and referred to the speech of Lord Lee last evening, in which Lord Lee stated that we could never accept equality with other Powers except in connection with the great English-speaking nation that had sprung from our loins.

Sir James Craig declared that Lord Lee had done his utmost, not perhaps to hold out the olive branch to America, but nevertheless to show that we were at present confining ourselves entirely to the question of maintaining a one-power standard.

Sir J. Craig mentioned that in the interest of economy, the steaming of squadrons at home and abroad would be restricted and fuel allowances at all stations would be limited. The Admiralty, he added, had reluctantly closed down two dockyards and Osborne College would also be closed. This would be the last year that war liabilities would figure on the estimates.

Sir James said it was proposed to replace four obsolescent ships by vessels of the "Hood" class, and also to build submarines and minelayers embodying the latest developments. The view of the naval staff in regard to the importance of capital ships was unchanged. If the House sanctioned £2,5000,000 it would be impossible to get very far in the completion or even the beginning of four capital ships until late in the autumn but there would be supplementary estimates.

Colonel Archer Shee moved that owing to the great increase in the strength of other Powers it was necessary that immediate steps should be taken further to increase the capital ships and auxiliary vessels in order to ensure a navy at least equal in strength to that of any single power.

Mr. Asquith emphasised that the present was the most favorable opportunity to reduce the ample margin of naval strength held by America and Great Britain over all other powers, as a fratricidal strife between the two great English-speaking peoples was an absolute impossibility.

Colonel Archer Shee's amendment was negatived without a division.

COURT CASE TO DECIDE VALIDITY OF TRADE PACT

Question Whether Soviet Goods Can Be Attached To Determine Status

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 17.—The Anglo-Russian Trade agreement is by no means hailed with universal satisfaction here. The Daily Herald alone is jubilant, and claims that the agreement is a great triumph for Labor.

Other comments range from strong denunciation to mild gratification. The point of immediate concern is to determine whether gold and other commodities from Russia can be attached. M. Krassin declared that a test action would be brought in the courts as soon as possible. If the verdict was in favor of the Soviet trade relations should be opened immediately. If, however, it should be against the Soviet, then the trade agreement was useless unless the British Government obtained a revision of the decision.

War Finance Body To Make Loan For Exporting Cotton

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, March 18.—It is announced that the War Finance Corporation has approved an application made by two American banking institutions for an advance to assist in financing the exportation of about 15,000 bales of cotton to Germany and Czecho-Slovakia. The amount of the advance is not yet determined. This action is a complete reversal of the policy pursued by Mr. Houston as Secretary of the Treasury in the Wilson Administration.

SCHOOLS CHIEF OUT BECAUSE OF TEACHER STRIKE

Ministry To Appeal To Chambers Of Commerce For Funds

(Staff Wire to THE CHINA PRESS)

Peking, March 18.—Mr. Fan Yuen-lien, Minister of Education, resigned from office yesterday owing to the lack of funds with which to meet the demands of the teachers in the government schools who went on strike.

The Ministry has decided to send an appeal to the Chinese Chambers of Commerce, which will meet in Shanghai tomorrow for their support of the income tax, of which 70 percent is allotted for educational purposes.

While all administrative bureaus at Peking have been affected seriously by the Government financial embarrassment, the educational department has been particularly hard hit and the resignation of Mr. Fan is but a development in the acute crisis confronting this department which since Monday has had on its hands a strike of teachers for unpaid salaries.

In an interview Mr. Fan said that with the exception of schools administered directly by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Communications no government higher school has received any allowance within three months and no money has been advanced to any government middle school in the past two months.

The situation has been developing for months, for as long ago as last November the question of unpaid salaries of teachers and school expenses had become wholly serious. The situation then was tided over by means of a loan of $500,000 for which China's holdings in the Russo-Asiatic bank were given as security. This money was barely sufficient to carry the ministry through a few months.

Since the Chinese New Year [illegible] whatever have been forthcoming and teachers have reported that recently no cash has been available even to buy ink and paper. The allowance for tea has been suspended for some time.

Following the strike of teachers on Monday the Government has been asked to allot a proportion of its receipts from railway lines to educational needs and to exact immediately the proposed income tax for the educational fund. The teachers themselves have undertaken to win the consent of merchants generally to the proposed tax levy.

CHINESE PAPER OPPOSES NAMING OF DR. FERGUSON

'Too Close To Officialdom' Is Opinion Of Republican Daily News

That Dr. J. C. Ferguson should not succeed Mr. Charles R. Crane as United States Minister to China is the opinion expressed in an editorial which appeared in yesterday's Republican Daily News. The editor advanced as the reason of his objection that Dr. Ferguson's relation with the present officialdom is too close to enable him to represent a genuine American spirit of democracy.

A translation of the editorial comments follows:

"It is reported that Dr. Ferguson will be appointed United States Minister to China. If this is true, it will disappoint the Chinese people.

"Ferguson has been in China for many years. It is true that he knows conditions out here well and we have no particular ill-feeling against him. However, he is too familiar with Chinese officialdom. He is at present serving as a political advisor to the Peking Government. Should he become the Minister to China, it is doubtful whether he will be able to formulate a policy in accordance with the true democratic spirit and fulfil our hopes."

Fishery Rights Not To Be Sold

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, March 17.—At yesterday's public annual auction of the rights to use the fishing grounds of the Far East coast, Saghalin and Kamchatka, the Kamchatka grounds, comprising 75 percent of the whole, were, by instructions from Chita, withdrawn from the auction.

JAP SUPPORT FOR MONARCHY MOVE AGAIN REPORTED

Chang Tso-lin To Install Hsuan Tung At Mukden, Says News Bureau

The Union Press Bureau, one of the most influential Chinese press agencies in Shanghai, last night carried a lengthy report on the proposed monarchical movement by Chang Tso-lin, the Fengtien Tuchun.

The [illegible] according to the report, covers assumption of power by Emperor Hsuan Tung and the establishment of a monarchy in North China and Mongolia to be known as the North Chunghua Monarchy. Financial support is to come from Japan, the news agency asserts.

The report says in part:

"The plan to restore the monarchy has been in progress for more than a year. The actual coup will be carried out in a few days, yet the nation is still dreaming, yearning for Chang Tso-lin and Tsao Kun to send expeditionary forces to relieve Urga of its distress. How ignorant these people are!

"When the Fengtien and Chihli factions overthrew the Anfuites last year, Chang Tso-lin was then in Peking with his numerous troops and instructed his advisor, the Manchu Prince, Tsai Tao, to inform the Royal Household of the Tsing Dynasty, that he and his colleagues were resolute in supporting the Imperial Household and it was their desire to place the Emperor on the throne and so permanently establish a monarchy.

"As a result of Tsai Tao's information, the Imperial Household held a conference of the princes with the Emperor presiding. Princess-Dowager Chin stated that the overturn would be very difficult and that the entire royal family should be on guard against the Fengtien Tuchun, because he had motives other than those he disclosed. Tsai Tao was instructed to reject the plans presented by Chang Tso-lin.

"Chang, when told of the attitude of the Royal Family, asked Tsai Tao to convey the message to the Palaces that the coup would be effected sooner or later, adding that if his troops had failed to oust the Anfuites, Tuan Chi-jui would have massacred the entire royal family.

Chang Tso-lin proceeded with his plans without consulting any of the Manchus, the report continues. He is accused of establishing a cordon of troops about the Imperial Palace—under the guise of being a protector.

The report charges that Chang invited the Russian reactionaries to take Urga and points out that his forces have not fired a shot in defense of that city.

The fall of Kalgan, the kidnapping of the Imperial Family and the setting up of the monarchy at Mukden, with Chang Tso-lin heading the list of Mongolian princes are the events next in order, according to the Press Bureau, which ends its report as follows:

"Behind the scene is Japan. Japan is responsible for this move on the part of Chang Tso-lin. Janan must depend on China for resources for her army. Japan is willing to furnish necessary financial support in this case."

BONAR LAW QUITS POST AS LEADER IN COMMONS

Lloyd George Breaks Down In Announcing Retirement

HEALTH, CAUSE

Coalition Not To Be Affected; Unionists To Name Successor

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 17.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Lloyd George announced the resignation of Mr. Bonar Law from office on the grounds of ill health. (Since January, 1919, Mr. Bonar Law has been Lord Privy Seal and leader of the House of Commons, while since 1916 he has been leader of the whole Unionist party.)

In making the announcement, which came as a bombshell to the House, the Prime Minister was greatly affected. As he read the letter in which Mr. Bonar Law tendered his resignation, Mr. Lloyd George frequently broke down and was hardly able to finish his statement.

In the course of his letter, Mr. Bonar Law said: "The strain of the last few years has pressed very heavily on me. As you know, I have had the greatest difficulty in doing my work and am now worn out. My medical advisers have warned me that my physical condition is such that, unless I have immediately a long rest, an early and complete breakdown is inevitable.

"It will always be a pleasure to me to think that I have been able to help you in the great work you have done since you became Prime Minister, and it is necessity that compels me to abandon the hope of assisting you in the difficult task that now confronts you."

The House cheered sympathetically when Mr. Lloyd George broke down in finishing the reading of the letter, and added that he hoped a short rest would enable Mr. Bonar Law to return to his duties, but that medical opinion was that Mr. Bonar Law would need a prolonged rest and freedom from worry.

PREMIER FALTERS

Here the Prime Minister was unable to master his feelings, and flung himself back in his seat with a gesture indicating his inability to continue.

Mr. Asquith then rose, and, speaking almost inaudibly, referred to the Premier's announcement as unexpected and painful. In all his relation with Mr. Bonar Law, he said, there was nothing that had left any rancor, Mr. Bonar Law's political antagonists entertained the most affectionate memories of him, and hoped for his complete restoration to health and re-entry into the fighting ranks.

Mr. J. R. Clynes, chairman of the Labor party, said he and his colleagues had received the news with a feeling of the deepest loss.

Later.

It is understood tonight that the Coalition will not be affected by Mr. Bonar Law's resignation. The Unionists will hold a meeting on Monday to elect a successor as leader of the party. In this connection the name of Mr. Austen Chamberlain is freely mentioned.

London, March 18.—The resignation of Mr. Bonar Law is regarded as bringing a fresh element of uncertainty into the already uncertain political situation, and as almost creating a crisis.

The difficulties of the Government have been aggravated recently by the unsatisfactory financial position, declining trade and unemployment, the Irish situation and the signs of insubordination in the ranks of the Conservative party. In view of these factors the effect of the severance of the staunch partnership between Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Bonar Law is regarded with some misgiving by Coalition papers.

Packing Employes Voting On Strike

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Chicago, March 18.—Balloting has begun here in the national referendum of packing house employees on the question of a strike. While the Amalgamated Butchers are voting, the representatives of ten allied unions who have members working for packing houses are conferring on the question of a simultaneous strike.

EX-MAJOR PLEADS SHALL SHOCK IN ASSAULT CASE

Canadian Engineer Draws Scathing Rebuke From British Magistrate

Following an attempt to kiss a French lady while riding in an elevator at the Palace Hotel Tuesday evening and a subsequent brutal attack upon the lady's husband with a champagne bottle, F. B. Chapman, said to have been a major in the Canadian forces, found himself in the British Police Court yesterday, when Magistrate G. W. King in letting the defendant off delivered some scathing comment upon the disgracefulness of his behavior.

The complainants in the case, M. and Mme. Jean Pernod d'Arriere, of Beaulieu, France—said to be members of French nobility—did not wish prosecution in the case, but only full publicity, but both expressed indignation over the fact that their assailant should escape so lightly.

The story of the episode, as outlined by Mr. K. E. Newman, who appeared to prosecute, was to the effect that Mme. Pernod was being carried from the dining room floor, the fifth, to the fourth floor at about 10 p.m. when Chapman, who was in company with another man, attempted to embrace her. She slapped his face, whereupon he struck her, making her nose bleed. She appealed to her assailant's companion, but he made no move to help her, simply stating, she reported, that he was "an American."

FOLLOWED TO ROOM

Following the incident, the attorney stated, the two men followed Mme. Pernod to her room. Her husband then appeared and the duo slipped away. After the lady had reported the matter to her husband he went irately in search of Chapman. In the course of his hunt he started to enter the bar on the fifth floor and as he crossed the threshold Chapman, who, by threatening the bar boy, had provided himself with an empty champagne bottle in the meantime, struck him a crushing blow on top of the head. The victim of the attack had to have several stitches in the wound and has since been under the daily care of a physician.

Testimony supporting this outline of the case was given by the two complainants, the lift boy and the bar boy, who identified the accused.

Mr. P. M. Linebarger, appearing for the defense, then entered a plea of temporary insanity stating that the accused had been gassed in the war and suffered from shell-shock and that he could remember nothing of the incident, not even who had been his companion.

PLEADS SHELL-SHOCK

On the stand the accused stated his home was in Ontario and that he was a graduate of Toronto University Engineering school, had been with the Guggenheim firm for 21 years and had served during the war at Verdun, Sanctuary Wood and other places, during which time he was wounded, gassed and suffered from shell-shock. His health had been broken ever since, he said. On the day in question he had eaten nothing and had a number of drinks. He could remember nothing of the occurrence. He attributed his condition to the drinks and shell-shock. He denied trying to shield his companion and when Magistrate King expresed a wish to see the gentleman who in answer to the question "do you stand by and see a lady assaulted?" had replied "I am an American," Mr. Linebarger said that he would be glad to cooperate in finding the man. His remark, counsel declared, was a slander upon the whole American community.

Mr. Newman told the Court that the complainants, not wishing to prosecute, had made an offer to drop the whole matter if accused would pay the sum of $1,000 to any local hospital, another like sum to be paid in three months. This Chapman had refused to do. M. Pernod was also a veteran of the war and had been wounded and an assault such as had been made might well have caused his death. He asked the Court to take a serious view of the matter.

SHAMEFUL, SAYS MAGISTRATE

"You must realise how ashamed of yourself you should be," said the Magistrate at the conclusion of the case. "No decent man could have behaved as you have done and not suffered pangs of remorse. Your assertion that you did not know what you were doing is no excuse and you have qualified for the maximum penalty—two months' hard labor."

Having fought in the war, however, the Magistrate stated, he felt that defendant deserved one more chance and he would require him to pay Mr. Newman's costs for the proceedings and to sign a bond to abstain from intoxicating liquors in future.

The Magistrate expressed regret that he did not have before him the man who stood by and saw the assault without lending the lady aid.

"I do not envy him his conscience," Mr. King said.

British Obtain Trade Charter

consortium will be in working order.

It is understood that the railway requirements of China will be one of the first considerations of the new Consortium but in addition to railways there are hosts of other enterprises, chiefly industrial, which, with the assistance of its powerful Chinese associates and its exceptional charter, the new corporation will be in a position to develop.

One of the principal features of the new corporation will be equal opportunities for all representative Chinese and British manufacturing and trading concerns, either in the direction of obtaining from the Corporation technical and financial assistance for setting up works and factories of all kinds in China as to the best means of the disposal of British home made products in the markets of China.

TO SELL SHARES

It is not intended to call for subscriptions from the public at the present time but to give British manufacturers the opportunity of subscribing for founders' shares only, with which capital the business of the corporation will be commenced. Afterwards when the affairs of the Corporation have been placed on a sound footing as a successful going concern the public, both in China and Great Britain, will be invited through the usual channels to subscribe for ordinary shares in the capital of the corporation.

The corporation has no monopoly and as far as possible all British manufacturers who are known to be interested in trade with China will, during the next few weeks, be given an opportunity to subscribe for founders' shares in the corporation, should they be desirous of doing so.

Receiver Named For G.W.W. In New York

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 17.—Receivers have been appointed to take over the business of Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, exporters and importers, whose liabilities are estimated at six million dollars gold. Their assets consist of stock in subsidiary companies throughout the world.

It is understood that the company's financial embarassment is due to the depreciation of its stock holdings, and also to its heavy losses owing to the Soviet Government's repudiation of its claims for supplies to the Imperial and Kerensky governments.

The Shanghai branch of Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, Far Eastern Division, Inc., one of the subsidiary companies mentioned in the New York dispatch, has received no news of the appointment of receivers for the parent organisation, it was stated at the offices yesterday.

Rail Man Refuse To Accept Cuts

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

New York, March 18.—The representatives of the common laborers employed by the New York Central Railway have promptly rejected the reduction in wages proposed by the railways, and declined to join in a request to the Railways Labor Board to adjust the matter. It is officially announced that the reduction will be made effective on April 6.

Mixed Court Jottings

Valentine, Leonardo, Russian brought up on a vagrancy charge some time ago and ordered to leave Shanghai, was ordered deported to Harbin or Vladivostok by Assessor Ivanoff and Magistate Loh of the Mixed Court yesterday. The Assessor instructed the police to put the prisoner upon a train or a boat, securing third class passage for him, which is to be paid for by the Russian Bureau of Affairs. Leonardo had refused to leave town unless supplied with first class accommodations.

A shop assitant appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday on the charge of being one of a gang of seven men who committed an armed robbery at 26 Wuhu Road on the 16th, getting money to the amount of $335. The police stated that the man had admitted complicity and had told them that during the flight from the shop one of the robbers had fired at pursuers and had hit another member of the gang. The case was remanded for a week to permit further investigation.

Three coolies charged with theft of cigarettes from the hold of the Blue Funnel steamer Ajax were sentenced yesterday, one getting a month and the others two weeks in jail. A hawker convicted of a like charge was sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment.

Petrograd Rebels Blow Up Warships

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 18.—The surrender of Kronstadt was followed by a terrific artillery bombardment which forced the garrisons to abandon some of the batteries. Then, in the early morning an infantry attack was launched. The Bolsheviks came over the ice from Oranienbaum and simultaneously the Chinese advanced from Systerbalcy. All were white cloaks. Strong artillery and machine-gun fire inflicted heavy losses on the besiegers who, however, forced their way into the town where they were joined by Communists who had hitherto remained in hiding.

The bombardment started great fires in Kronstadt causing great damage. Before departing the rebels blew up the modern 23,000 metric ton warships Petro-Pavlovsk and Sebastol. The leader of the insurrection, General Koslovsky, was among the refugees who have arrived in Finland.

Helsingfors, March 17.—The Kronstadt Revolutionary Committee, together with 800 soldiers, has arrived in Finland.

It is stated that Kronstadt has surrendered.

Dominions Asked To Send Data For Empire Parleys

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 17.—Reuter's Agency understands that the agenda for the conference of Dominions' premiers is now being drawn up but it is unlikely that it will be complete for some weeks. The British Government is sending out to the Dominions papers relative to the questions it desires to have discussed and asking the Dominions in return to send in data regarding the subjects they propose to place on the agenda.

It is practically certain that the naval, military and air defense of the Empire will form the main theme of the discussions, while arrangements for a meeting of an Empire constitutional conference will also figure prominently.

It is hoped that a further considerable advance will be made in the imperial wireless system, and it is anticipated that the report of the Milner Commission on wireless communication throughout the Empire will be ready for the conference, thus enabling the Dominion premiers to see how far the stations have developed and to submit views in this connection.

Asks Mixed Court Aid To Get Murder Suspect Held By French Police

Application Made Regarding Man Believed One Of Gang Plotting Against Li Kung-yuan

An echo of the attempted assassination of General Li Kung-yuan, which occurred at 211 Weihaiwei Road December 29, was heard in the Mixed Court yesterday when application was made to that tribunal for aid in getting hold of a man believed to have been one of the attacking gang. The man was arrested in the French Concession and the French police have refused to deliver him over to the Settlement authorities.

Since the attack of December 29, when Li's aide and secretary, Lu Wei-nien, was shot through the throat, there have been other unsuccessful attempts upon the life of the former Southern military commander and during the early part of this month the police applied for warrants for the arrest of seven men suspected of being concerned in the plot. On March 3 two of the secretaries of General Li saw one of the men wanted in French town, took him into custody and turned him over to a French policeman. Subsequently, it is alleged, the two employes were thrown into jail on a charge of falsely arresting the men and were heavily fined.

Yesterday, before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Li, Inspector Wheeler of the Mixed Court stated that Mr. Y. S. Ziar wished to make an application in regard to the arrest of the alleged assassin, one Voong Kyi-ming. A warrant had been issued on March 2, he said, and had been countersigned by the Senior and the French Consuls and sent to Sinza station, the charge being that of the attempted murder of General Li.

Mr. Ziar, addressing the Court, stated that he represented the General's family and told of the attempts made on Li's life. It had been discovered by the police, he said, that there was a conspiracy to put Li to death and the authorities had issued instructions for the gang to be apprehended. In this connection an application was made for a warrant against one Voong Kyi-ming. The warrant was issued and countersigned and stamped by the Senior and French Consuls.

On March 9 Voong was arrested by two of Li's secretaries who had reason to believe that the man was just about to leave for Hankow, his luggage having been found aboard a steamer which was on the point of sailing. The secretaries handed the prisoner over to the French police.

When a warrant is out for a person on a serious charge, counsel contended, any citizen is under obligation to the community to affect his arrest if possible and to hand him over to the proper authorities. Following this arrest the Municipal police requested that the man be handed over for trial by the Mixed Court, which was the proper court, the offense being committed in the International Settlement and the warrant issuing therefrom. The application was refused on the ground that the police officer who made it did not have the warrant with him. He at once went back, secured the warrant, and made a second application. This also was refused, on the ground that there was some irregularity—that is, that the man was arrested by the secretaries of Li and that the offense was of a political nature.

It was no doubt true, Mr. Ziar said that the motive for murder was political, but that did not mitigate the offense. He submitted that this court had jurisdiction and asked that every assistance be given the police in cases like this. The suspect, he understood, was still in the custody of the French police.

After inquiring of Detective Sergeant Kiloh whether the matter had been reported to the Commissioner of Police and being assured that this had already been done, the Assessor stated that according to the view of the Court as soon as there was an issue of a warrant on a serious charge anyone might apprehend that person if seen, and if the offense was committed in the Settlement he would be tried in the Mixed Court. The Assessor stated that he did not know why the French police should refuse to hand the man over. It did not minimize the gravity of the crime if it were from political motives. The Assessor said that he would do what he could to take the matter up.

Soldiers Forcing Labor In Hupeh

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, March 14.—The present day tuchuns are omnipotent beings in China, but the way they are exercising what power they have is really regrettable. Tuchun Wang Chuan-yuan of Wuchang, has removed, or rather made remove by a mandate from the post of Hupeh civil governor, Mr. Hsia Shan-kang, simply because this man is of the straightforward type and therefore is not of his liking.

The people had worked very hard last year before they succeeded in installing Hsia in the post, hence the present clamoring protest from many quarters against his dismissal. However, the people can do nothing but letting the Tuchun's desire fulfilled.

The succeeding civil governor will be Mr. Liu Chen-en, formerly associated with General Wang Chuan-yuan. As Mr. Hsia Shou-kang, Mr. Liu is also a native of Hupeh province. Taking advantage of this, General Wang now pacifies the people by saying: "Liu is also a Hupeh native, therefore you still have Hupeh for Hupehese."

The Foundations Of Your Home
are your first care, are they not? Shallow, badly constructed foundations result in the appearance of damp, cracks and other unpleasant symptoms after you have taken possession and are comfortably installed in a new home.
HOW ABOUT THE FLOORS
And the interior woodwork? Did you take the same care of them?
Cheap flooring is no economy, especially if you cover it up with expensive carpets. Both will wear out and need renewal—so will cheap panelling.
OAK FLOORING
and oaken interior woodwork is practically indestructible, and will outlast you and those who come after you. Furthermore, the cost of oak flooring is about the same as that of a high-class carpet—Tls. 25 to Tls. 40 per fong (100 sq. feet).
Insist that all lumber for flooring and panelling for interior work bears the "Three Pines" Trade Mark, and the letters "KD" signifying kiln-dried, thus ensuring its perfect quality, and suitability for the severe climatic conditions of China.
We give all orders personal attention. After you have placed your order with us, the flooring will be laid and all work carried out under the personal supervision of a foreign expert of the Company. We prefer to do this for you.

WARRANT IS OUT FOR MURDERER OF GENERAL WANG

Police Department Issues Circular Announcing $30,000 Reward

The Criminal Investigation Department of the Municipal police yesterday circulated descriptive notices announcing the offer of $30,000 reward for the apprehension of the person who murdered General Wang Menhua—at the entrance to the Yih Ping Shang Hotel Wednesday evening. A Mixed Court warrant has been issued for the arrest of Ho Ying-heu, the pseudo medicine merchant who rented the room from which the fatal shots were fired.

The offer of reward which is made by Wang's relatives stipulates that the sum of $20,000 shall be paid for the arrest and conviction of the instigator or instigators of the murder and that $10,000 shall be paid for the arrest and conviction of the actual murderer.

There were no other developments in the case yesterday.

Ho is described as a native of Szechuen, between 27 and 32 years of age and standing between 5 feet and 5 feet 4 inches in height. He was dressed when last seen in a black satin jacket, greenish colored long gown and black Chinese cap. He had short cropped hair, dark skin and a round face and wore gold-rimmed, yellow glass spectacles.

Canton Citizens Demand Share Of Customs Surplut

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, March 17.—A meeting of citizens was held here yesterday for the purpose of discussing further measures with a view to securing a portion of the Customs Surplus. It was resolved to petition the National Assembly and send a letter to the Commissioner of Customs, urging return of the funds in order to assist in administrative reforms. It was further decided that in the event of refusal by the Diplomatic Corps to consent to Canton's petition, "other steps" should be resorted to.

The attendance at the meeting was small.

Nanyang Students Go Into Office For Practical Work

Through action taken by Mr. W. S. Tsu, President of Nanyang Railway engineering is to be enabled to engage in practical work in connection with the course as its members are to be sent into the offices of a number of architectural concerns for a period of months. While this plan is being carried out the class will be under the direction of Prof. C. Y. Huang, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The period to be covered will be one semester.

According to plans that have been announced two students will go to Peking, two to Tientsin, three to Woosung and one to Pootung.

The Nanyang Railway and Mining College, which is well known in Shanghai, was established by Mr. S. H. Lum in 1912 and upon his death in 1915 was entrusted to the present President of the institution, who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Steamer Wenatchee Has Fast Trial Run

First Of Admiral Line Shipping Board Boats Due Here April 26

According to word received by the Shanghai office of the Admiral Line from Seattle the liner Wenatchee, first of the large American shipping board passenger carriers of the group allotted to the Admiral Line, had a particularly successful trial trip on March 2. The vessel is reported to have exceeded all expectations in averaging 19 knots and in attaining 20 knots at times.

The Wenatchee was due to sail from New York on March 12 with a de luxe excursion and will sail from Seattle on her maiden voyage to the Far East on April 9. The Wenatchee is due to arrive at Shanghai on April 26.

BRITISH COAL BILL

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 18.—The House of Commons passed the third reading of the Bill for the decontrol of coal-mines from March 31, after unsuccessful efforts had been made by Labor and Coalition Groups to get the period extended.

HOW TO TAKE CORNS OUT SO THEY NEVER COME BACK.

"You simply use saltrated water which does the trick for us soldiers every time, and also cures bunions, aching, tenderness, blisters, chilblains, or even rheumatic and gouty pains,"—says C. S. TURNER, formerly of the R.A.M.C.

Cutting the top of a corn off with a razor or burning it off with caustic lotions, plasters, etc., doesn't do any good. The root just sprouts right up again, and soon your corn has a brand new top on it, bigger than ever. The top is only dead skin anyway. The business end of a corn is the little pointed part, or core, that extends down into the toe. That is what hurts when it presses on sensitive nerves, and it is the part you have to get out. Cutting the top off an aching tooth wouldn't stop the ache. Same way with a corn. Don't worry about the top. Get the root out permanently by using a good big handful of Reudel Bath Saltrates (you can get a half-pound at slight cost from any chemist) dissolved in a gallon or so of hot water. Just soak your feet in this for fifteen or twenty minutes, then take hold of the corn with your fingers, and out she'll come, root and all, like the hull comes out of a strawberry. Only a little hole or depression is left in the toe, and that soon closes, so there is nothing left in there to sprout a new corn again. It doesn't affect the surrounding flesh at all, but soon softens the whole of the corn. No burning or soreness, no pain, no danger, no trouble, and no days of waiting to see whether that old corn is going to leave for good or come back to stay with you a while longer. Soften callouses the same way, then scrape off, and I don't dare tell you how quick this medicated water, made with Reudel Bath Saltrates, will always drive aches, chafes, blisters, etc., away, and even cure rheumatic or gouty pains. It would sound too good to be true, but thousands of soldiers can tell what wonderful stuff saltrated water is.—C. S. T.

NOTE.—Messrs. A. S. Watson & Co., of 16 Nanking Road, Shanghai, are at present in possession of large supplies of Reudel Bath Saltrates.

CHINESE 'Y' TEAM AND ROWING CLUB PLAYING TONICHT

Y.M.C.A. Quintet Will Meet Soon-To-Be Champions Of Foreign League

The Chinese Y.M.C.A. basketball team, with one or two star college and school players ready to go in as substitutes, will play the Rowing Club team of the Foreign League at the Y.M.C.A. tonight at 3 o'clock. The game is in the nature of a practice session for the quintets which will represent China and England in the coming International series.

The last time the two fives clashed the Chinese came through on the long end by one point. The Rowing Club team is billed to win the pennant in the Foreign League, which closes its season shortly.

Anglo American Cross Country Race At Roehampton London

N. A. McInnis of Oxford University, winning the intercollegiate cross-country race at Roehampton, on the outskirts of London. The race was run over the Thomas Hare and Hounds Club course. The Oxford-Cambridge team scored 26 points to 29 for the Cornell University team. C. C. Carter of Cornell finished second.

CHEAPER TO SWIM, BUT H. C. L. GRIPS ALL OTHER SPORTS

New York, Feb. 28.—If you're a "water-dog" you can have fun next summer at bargain prices.

Otherwise it will cost you just as much to play as it did at last year's high prices. Leading sporting goods manufacturers here say that swimming suits and paraphernalia will be from 25 to 40 percent cheaper, but no cuts will be made in the price of tennis, golf or baseball equipment. Very few increases in prices will be made, however.

Tennis equipment remains about the same price. Balls will still be sold for sixty cents and a good racquet can be bought for $15. Nets, posts, reels tapes, etc. remain at the same prices.

The difficulty in securing seasoned ash and the high cost of material for strings is keeping the price of racquets up, they say. Ash has jumped thirty percent in price and the price of "gut" has not only mounted in the same proportion, but the packers are unwilling to handle it.

In pointing out the difficulties encountered in manufacturing racquets, one big dealer called attention to something not generally known to the lay player, that only "gut" from grass fed lamb could be used. The product from alkaline fed animals is too rough, he said.

Golf equipment remains about the same price also. Some of the finest clubs made from hickory have jumped one dollar but the ordinary "sticks" remain the same as last year as also do balls at one dollar each.

Baseball equipment has not increased in price. The best balls will sell for $2.50, a good glove can be purchased for $6.00 and bats run from fifty cents up—mostly up.

Despite the pronounced drop in the wool market, uniforms will be no cheaper as the manufacturers were forced to buy their materials late last summer and during the fall.

Sweaters, woolen caps, jerseys and stockings, however are down forty percent. Sweaters that sold last season for $25 are now available for $15 and cheaper in some cases.

Swimming suits alone on the list will be cheaper. Materials were bought after the woolen market dropped and the outfits that cost $10 last summer can be bought this summer for around $6.

"Possibly this may not be believed in some circles," one of the manufacturers said, "but we are selling everything on a very close margin and have been slow in raising prices because we do not want to discourage sports by prices that reduce the number of participants. It is obvious that our profits will be the same with large sales at smaller profits than with few sales at larger profits and we can help to keep the game going, which, of course, furnishes the demand for our goods."

COLLEGES FIGHT FOR BASKETBALL PENNANT TODAY

Soochow University And St. John's Playing This Afternoon For E.C.I.A.A. Title

Soochow University and St. John's play this afternoon for the basketball title in the East China Intercollegiate Athletic Association series. At a late hour last night it was not definitely decided where the scrap is to be staged. In all probability it will be at the Rowing Club gymnasium but if this is not possible, the teams are to clash at Nanyang College. The game is set for 2:30 o'clock.

Soochow earned the right to play St. John's by defeating all the teams of the E. C. I. A. A. outside of Shanghai while St. John's players proved themselves superior to any college quintet in the city.

On paper St. John's looks the better of the two teams although W. L. Nash has made a great little quintet at Soochow.

CROSS COUNTRY RACE ON TODAY SEASON'S FINAL

Harriers Have Handicap This Afternoon With Gun Going At 3 O'clock

The Shanghai Harriers Club will hold the final cross-country run of the season this afternoon. It will be an open handicap of three miles and a half and the men will start from the American School on North Szechuen Road and chase over a course in the Kiangwan District. The run has been laid by two old members of the organisations.

All men are urged to be at the School early as the starting signal will be given promptly at 3 o'clock.

Base Ball Crooks Must Stand Trial

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Chicago, March 17.—Judge Dover has refused to comply with the demands that the trial of the "White Sox" players and others indicted for the alleged "throwing" of the 1919 world series of baseball games should be set aside. The Court ordered a hearing on Tuesday, when it is believed that a date for the trial will be fixed.

OPEN INTERNATIONAL MEET BECINS ON WEDNESDAY OF OLYMPIC GAMES WEEK

Tentative Program For Far Eastern Championships Shows Variety Of Sporting Events From May 30 To June 4

The tentative program for the Far Eastern Championships and the open international meet was announced yesterday by Dr. John H. Gray, honorary secretary of the China Contest Committee.

The list of attractions shows a variety of athletic events each afternoon with the swimming scheduled for each evening at the Municipal Bath on North Szechuen Road Extension. The use of the tank for aquatic events and the Hongkew Park for athletic events were sanctioned yesterday by the Municipal Council.

The big parade of athletes and the opening ceremony come on the afternoon of the opening day—Monday, May 30 and as soon as the formal inauguration of the games is completed, preliminaries in the track and field meet and baseball, volleyball, basketball and soccer football games will start. Later in the afternoon there will be a mass demonstration in which 3,000 Chinese boys are to take part. But one final will be held on the first day of the Games—that of the one mile run.

FINALS IN TRACK

Tuesday will see the finals in the track and field Far Eastern championships and the various games will continue.

A mass play demonstration, with 1,000 Chinese girls taking part, is the feature for Wednesday and the pentathlon will start on this day. In addition the five-mile run will be held and the third baseball, football, basketball and football games will be held. China must meet both Japan and the Philippines in each of these sports.

The open international championships are billed for Friday and Saturday as Thursday will be Boy Scouts Day and will also provide opportunity for the playing off of ties. The decathlon also starts on Thursday and will continue Friday afternoon.

Preliminaries in the open internationals come Friday with the finals on Saturday and the cage ball game between the Chinese Army and Navy is scheduled on Friday afternoon.

There will be two modified marathon runs, the open event coming in the middle of the week and the Far Eastern Championship run on Saturday afternoon.

Saturday night prizes will be awarded the various competitors.

Filipinos To Send Big Team To Games

The Philippine Islands will send 120 athletes and 14 coaches and trainers to the Far Eastern Championship Games which will be held here in May, according to a cablegram received yesterday by Dr. John H. Gray from Camilo Osias, assistant director of the Bureau of Education in Manila.

Hair Falling? Germol Stops It

Try the Remarkable New Hair-Root Nourisher. Notice Difference in a Few Days.

After combing your hair, do you find your comb full of dead and broken off hairs? How long do you suppose this can keep up before you become entirely bald? There is no excuse for this condition, now that the newly discovered hair nourisher, GERMOL, will positively end hair falling within a very short time. GERMOL gives remarkable vigor to the hair roots, where the source of the trouble lies. Every hair is held tightly in its root sac, and your hair stops falling. You can prove this in a short time. GERMOL also stops scalp itching and the condition which results in dandruff. It gives youthful vigor to hair-roots and brings back to the hair its lustrous original color. Your hair will be silky, full of life, luxurious. You need nothing else but GERMOL to give yourself a luxuriant growth of healthy hair. It produces results even in those of advanced years where the hair is grey and thin. Start using it today and solve your hair problem for all time to come. One bottle will prove it.

When Fate and Fire Throw Dice

A TINY spark, a sputtering flame—then a raging furnace of heat and destruction; another town or perhaps a whole city desolated; wiped completely off the earth; victims of the red scourge! When will it stop?

By some weird schedule, yet with remarkable accuracy, fate and fire pick their path—and it's usually across the inflammable roofs of a community. And what is to halt the progress of roof-to-roof fires unless buildings are covered with roofings which resist fire and stop its spread?

Such roofings are of Johns-Manville Asbestos, a mineral which satisfies every roofing requirement as to durability, economy and fire protection.

ASBESTOS ROOFING WILL PROTECT YOUR BUILDINGS

Asbestos, the base of Johns-Manville Asbestos Roofings, is a fire-proof mineral which will not ignite though heaped with blazing brands. It is not harmed by water, oil or ordinary acids and alkalies; and it never needs paint.

Johns-Manville Asbestos roofings are made in many forms so that now every building can have the protection it needs. Johns-Manville Standard and Colorblende Asbestos Shingles for homes; Asbestos Ready-to-lay Roofings for sloping roof decks; Asbestos Built-up Roofing for flat roof surfaces and Corrugated Asbestos Roofing for skeleton frame buildings.

Ask us about the Johns-Manville policy of roof registration which continues their responsibility until you get the service promised.

Shanghai Horse Bazaar Meeting

Authority to the directors to borrow sums on behalf of the company up to the amount of Tls. 400,000 was given yesterday at the annual general meeting of the Shanghai Horse Bazaar and Motor Co., Ltd. The meeting was presided over by Dr. N. MacLeod, supported by Messrs. J. Ambrose and R. I. Fearon, directors. Shares to the number of 1,030 were represented.

After the secretary had read the notice convening the meeting and the auditors' certificate, the chairman said:

Gentlemen, the report and accounts having been in your hands for some days, with your permission, we shall consider them as having been read.

The Profit and Loss Account for 1920 shows an increase over that of 1919 in directors' and auditors' fees of Tls. 1,125 and Tls. 250 respectively, adopted by the shareholders at last annual meeting and the July extraordinary one.

Interest on Bank Overdraft also was above that of 1919 by Tls. 4,217.45

The profits for the year will be referred to later.

The items in the balance sheet calling for notice are: A bank overdraft on ordinary account of Tls. 234,870.58 and a separate loan entry of Tls. 36,320, a total of Tls. 271,190.58, more than the 1919 overdraft by Tls. 150,011.85, and accounted for by the general stock figure on the other side of the balance sheet, viz. Tls. 420,179.92, which is Tls. 213,364.05 higher than the corresponding general stock value of 1919. This stock excess is represented by new materials and cars at invoice cost plus duty and landing expenses, to which further reference will be made when dealing with resolution 4.

Nothing has to be said of the other liabilities other than that the amount of those payable, Tls. 59,271.68, consists of acceptances for goods received before December 31, but not due till later and which have all been paid since, as have also Tls. 15,564.36 to Sundry Creditors for wages and Bill debts, and also the amount in Suspense, Tls. 2,824.12 consisting of small items which could not be settled before the end of the year.

Our assets in land at book value are as in 1919, but Taels 3,636.46 were spent on new buildings increasing motor accommodation, and Tls. 3,682.78 on furniture required in our enlarged godown for motor spares, and Tls. 5,192.77 on new garage machinery, chiefly tire repair plant.

Of the Tls. 94,109.83 under the heading of Sundry Debtors, Tls. 8,579.40 are due to us from connection abroad and of the balance Tls. 50,071.63 have been collected up to date.

The cash in the compradore's hands on December 31, Taels 20,421.75, was banked in the beginning of January.

The Credit Balance of Profits for 1920, including Tls. 10,255.40, carried forward from 1919, amounts to Tls. 93,479.30, a sum Tls. 12,909.16 over that of 1919 and so constituting a record.

Notwithstanding, we directors regret, as stated in the Report, our inability to recommend the present payment of a dividend.

When you shall have heard what has to be said in support of the resolution concerned with our bank overdraft, you will, we trust, think we do wisely in delaying the payment of a dividend.

I have now to propose the first resolution: That the report and accounts as presented be passed. It is seconded by Mr. J. Ambrose.

Before voting on the resolution, I shall be glad to furnish any additional information regarding the report and accounts should any of you wish me to do so, insofar as it is within my knowledge.

The resolution was passed, as were also the following:

That Mr. J. Ambrose be re-elected a director of the company.—Proposed Mr. F. Ayscough, seconded by Mr. P. W. O. Liddell.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be re-elected auditors to the company.—Proposed by Mr. F. Ayscough, seconded by Mr. E. T. Barnes.

Dr. MacLeod then spoke regarding the fourth resolution, reading as follows: That the directors be authorised to borrow on behalf of the company any sum or sums of money not exceeding in all Tls. 400,000, and to issue any mortgages or debentures to secure the repayment of such amount.

"To realise the need for the resolution to be shortly proposed by me, the Chairman said: "you must remember in the first place that the business of the Company has greatly changed its character: we formerly dealt in ponies exclusively and we now deal in motors—not exclusively but to a greater extent, the pony business having decreased greatly. In the second place you must remember that this has been done without an increase of capital and without borrowing from the public by an issue of debentures. I will give you some figures taken from the last fifteen annual reports and accounts; all have been audited, of course, and no earlier ones are available.

"When the company was constituted in 1903 its business was that of a horse bazaar and it was so still when the 1906 balance sheet showed stock valued at Tls. 107,498 and an overdraft with the Bank of Tls. 85,858.

"By that year, any working capital that may have existed, must have been utilised, for an overdraft was an item in each year's balance sheet thereafter; it rose gradually till in 1911 it was Tls. 147,298 when the company's stock was valued at Tls. 156,786; and it fell in 1916 to Tls. 37,070 when the stock was Tls. 122,583, rising again in 1917 to Tls. 74,045 and Tls. 138,862 respectively.

"After 1917 motor cars formed part of our stock and the figures at the end of 1920 were as follows: Overdraft—Tls. 271,190.58. Stock—Tls. 420,179.92.

"A motor car department was inaugurated under the supervision of a foreigner in 1908 for the purpose of dealing with repairs to chassis alone. In that year the company imported its first motor car for a customer, but not till 1917 were any cars ordered to be kept in stock for sale, and of these none were delivered until 1918.

"Until 1908 the carriage factory built horse-drawn vehicles only; in that year we turned out our first motor body. Today more men are employed on motor work than were engaged formerly on carriages, which are seldom ordered now.

"Since we began in 1918 to keep motor cars in stock, the sale of them has consistently increased; comparing one half year with another there has been no falling off and there has been an increase in every half year but one. The last six months' sales of cars in 1920 were the best and December the best of these. Moreover, these results have been attained notwithstanding long delays in the delivery of cars ordered—delays so serious that we have been very frequently unable to meet our customers' demands.

"Deliveries quickened from midsummer 1920 and in November last there was no prospect of shortage in stocks; accordingly we cancelled all orders for cars and accessories where it was possible to do so; and no further orders have been issued since: Our stock of cars is now actually greater than was anticipated.

"On the other hand, sales of cars practically ceased in January, but have since recovered somewhat, though the prospect of the first quarter of this year's sales even equalling those of last one is remote. Home prices fell in the latter half of 1920 and fortunately we were able to arrange that we should have the benefit of this reduction in price in respect of cars in stock here three months after the date of the reduction decided upon. Fortunately also, a large part of our stock has been paid for at a higher rate of exchange than now prevails.

"I have only to remind you that as this motor business has been developed and run without any increase of capital or any public issue of debentures, an overdraft with our bankers was and still is a necessity.

"According to last year's balance sheet, the company's

	Tls.
Stock was valued at..	420,179.92
Its buildings at	138,594.64
Its land stood in the books at	118,141.17
Making a total of ...	676,915.73
which would be increased by	126,370.33
if the land be valued as it is at present assessed, making a total of	803,286.06

"The company's articles of association limit the borrowing power of your directors to the amount of the paid up capital, viz. Tls. 270,000. When advances beyond that amount became necessary recently, arrangements were made with the bank by the directors giving their personal guarantee.

"By adoption of the resolution I now propose, the directors will be able to act as required, if, when and how they think best."

The resolution was seconded by Mr. R. I. Fearon and was passed.

Resolution 5—that the staff of the company be, at the discretion of the directors, awarded a bonus of 10 percent on the amount of their salaries—proposed by Mr. F. Ayscough and seconded by Mr. Liddell, was also passed.

Mr. S. W. Pratt, secretary, thanked the shareholders on behalf of the staff.

Hupeh Peeved By Governor's Removal

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, March 14.—After the southern troops have been routed from western Hupeh districts by people's volunteer fighters and government, the miserable conditions of the people are aggravated considerably instead of being made a whit better. That the people can endure military oppression and tyranisation at the hands of soldiers is clearly shown in the following telegraphic appeal sent to the governors voicing their sufferings which few of the outside world know:

"Soldiers are forcing labor. All families have been hunted for men, who are hiding themselves in the mountains. Women and children are awaiting death in the house. Rice supply exhausted, price has risen to $17 a picul and not procurable."

The townspeople have all closed their shops and houses as a measure of strike. They declared that they would not resume business unless officials take steps to ameliorate their living.

Japanese Prince Reaches Singapore

(Reuter's Service)

Singapore, March 18.—The Crown Prince of Japan arrived here this morning on board the Katori, with the Kashima escorting. The Governor, Sir Laurence Guillemard, visited His Imperial Highness on board the Katori within an hour of the Crown Prince's arrival.

The Prince is remaining on board today, and will make his official landing at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

New York, March 18.—It is announced from London that the British Government has formally approved the appointment of Colonel George Harvey as United States Ambassador to succeed Mr. Davis.

TEA DANCE NETS $1,100 FOR RELIEF

Big Crowd At Party Given By American Woman's Club At Astor House

The tea dance sponsored by the American Woman's club as a means of aiding the famine relief work netted well over $1,100, and was a very enjoyable affair to the large crowd that filled the Astor House ball room to overflowing.

Between dances there were two short talks, one by Prof. C. F. Remer, of St. John's college, who told of famine conditions in the north as he had seen them, and the other by W. W. Bartlett, principal of the American School, who told what the students of the school had done for famine relief.

The women who arranged the affair feel much gratified over the results obtained. The committees were as follows:

Shanghai Sumatra Company

The nineteenth annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Shanghai Sumatra Co., Ltd., took place yesterday at the office of their agents, George McBain, 1 The Bund. Mr. R. S. F. McBain presided and was supported by Dr John Prentice and Mr. W. S. Jackson, directors, Mr. S. M. Joseph, Dr. Clendenning and others. The total number of shares represented was 5,583.

The notice of the meeting having been read, the chairman said:

"Gentlemen, as the report and accounts have been in your hands for some time, I will follow the usual course and take them as read They have been presented in the same form as the last year and there is very little in them calling for any remark.

"In tobacco working account, the amount under the heading of field labor is considerably less than the previous year and is accounted for by the fact that for our crop of 1919 only 220 fields were planted as against 407 fields for the 1918 crop in accordance with the general restriction of the planting program in Sumatra in order to allow the stocks accumulated during the war to be worked off more readily.

"In both the tobacco and rubber working accounts there is a very serious increase in the amounts under the headings of loss on rice, caused, as I am sure you are all aware, by the very high cost as against the price at which we have to supply it to the coolies.

"In the rubber working account the amount charged to upkeep of roads and drains shows a considerable advance over the previous year which is accounted for by the fact that a great deal of new drainage had to be undertaken and I am afraid we shall still have to face a further increase in the charges under this head as will appear from remarks that I shall make later on.

"The general balance sheet shows a loss of Tls. 42,352.88 which amount will be carried forward. The year's working on tobacco shows a loss of Tls. 70,013.33 which is very disappointing, but as you know both for the 1918 and 1919 crops the proceeds had to face very adverse exchange rates and as the chairman told you last year the crop of 1919 was a poor one. However, the whole of this crop has been sold with the exception of ten bales.

"The crop of 1920 from 200 fields weighed 2,876,176 piculs into the fomenting shed or an aberage of 9,58 piculs per field. The total number of bales will be about 2,015 and will be shipped to the Amsterdam market. The quality of our crop is reported to be good and the percentage of good leaf is much higher than last year and the amount of broken leaf is very small. A change has been made in the method of sorting the leaf and we expect a very beneficial results from this.

"Already the first two lots have been shipped off to Amsterdam—270 bales of the sandleaf, and 603 bales of the first footleaf, and values put upon them for insurance purposes in accordance with telegraphic advices show them to be of extraordinary good quality—prices which if they are realised will assure us of such a profit as we have not known for many years.

"During the last year great many tobacco estates in Sumatra have changed hands and one group of British estates was bought by one of the large Dutch companies. We have been approached by three different parties during the year to sell our tobacco estate and we did name a price at which we would recommend our shareholders to part with it. That is, the tobacco estate only, without the rubber. However, in no case did we ever get to closer negotiations and although at the time we named the price which we thought you would probably be willing to sell at; personally I am very glad we have never have to put the proposal before you. I think that the high exchange ruling at the time probably stood in the way of a sale going through as we made our price in Taels owing to the uncertainties of exchange. Now if we realise anything like what we expect to for our crop of this year, I doubt very much whether you would be willing to part with it unless a very much increased price was offered for it.

"I never felt able to speak so confidentially of a good year as I am today. Your latest telegraphic reports from Amsterdam say that the prospects of the market are very favorable and the chief director of Deli Maatschappij in Amsterdam who has recently been in Sumatra on a visit and who saw our crop before it was packed, pronounced it very good.

Rubber.—The year's profit after deducting the usual commissions is Tls. 22,205.81 which is carried to general profit and loss account. Our report gives, I think, all the necessary details and I do not think there is anything more to add to them. The amount of stock in rubber in transit at the end of the financial year was very considerable as for some time we kept back shipments. We are now, however, shipping about 100 cases a week from our stock in Sumatra and are selling small quantities in London but we are not pressing sales at all.

"For the first three months of this year our production was restricted and since the end of January we have stopped tapping altogether for the winter season at least and until such time as the markets show a more favorable opportunity of selling.

WILL IMPROVE TREES

"There is no doubt that the cessation of tapping will greatly benefit the trees and our visiting agent thoroughly approves of such a decision. He visited the estate at the end of January and we have quite recently received his report. He says, "I feel myself that nature's remedy (rest) which the directors' decision in allowing for a temporary stoppage in tapping has rendered possible, will operate very favorable in assisting our efforts to check the mild cases of Brown Bast, and give the treated cases a normal period to recover after treatment," as well as helping to restore some of the trees which wanted resting to a more satisfactory vitality. He also says that the "decision to stop tapping for a period of months leaves us with ample labor to do by manual effort what I otherwise feel sure should be effected by motor tractor and ploughs. I do not want the idea of tractor ploughing to be just dropped, however. Investigation into existing methods should be followed up consistently and advantage taken profiting by the experience and mistakes of others. When matters return to normal again it certainly will be found more economical than manual labor."

"We are liable to floods on some parts of the estate owing to low-lying ground and we have therefore had to do a great deal of dyking and draining and more will have to be done to put it into a thoroughly satisfactory basis. The visiting agent says that "the drains for carrying off water have received a lot of care and attention during the year and innovations in the draining of fields Nos. 1, 2 and 3 in Tamaram division are sensible and effective. The new dyke at Tamaram 10 and 11 may be termed a success but will require raising and repairing during 1921. Quite extensive work is indicated in connection with the embankment to the South of Fields 5-12 Tamaram." He also makes other considerable recommendations in the same connection which will be carried out.

"With regard to the appearance of the trees he says, "inspection was made at the worse time of the year for adjudging trees by their appearance. There were indications that the wintering period is arriving. However, I can readily discern better vitality than hitherto was demonstrated in some of the blocks and also the feeding roots are becoming more normally active where the aeration drains have been cut. Bark renewal is still far from what we want but the stoppage of tapping for a few months will give us the necessary breathing space to catch up with the thinning out and cultivation works that should have been put in hand some nine years ago. The renewal of bark will be in no small measure co-incident with an improved vitality in the trees."

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

"In the past he evidently considers there has been too much "reaching after crop," and he is very strong on conservative tapping.

"Certain recommendation with regard to the overhaul and refitting of the machinery will be carried out and also the smoke houses will be overhauled when they are clear of rubber.

"Under the heading of buildings, he reports "Considerable building and repair program was got through with during the year. The assistants' houses have been repaired, and new office has been built, also quarters for watchman and three new sets of lines for the coolies. A new smoke shed, a coagulating shed and a godown had also to be set up. Then 12 sets of lines have to be re-roofed, one bullock stable built and another enlarged.

"The carpenters have to be housed and also a work shed set up. Three new water gates were constructed. All the work enumerated in conjunction with the repairs and renewals to bridges, etc., absorbed all available labor and material. A start has now been made with the much needed manager's house. And also under general, he says, "I am afraid the year under review must be classed as a very disappointing one from the owners' point of view, but the directors are thanked for having accorded the necessary financial support that will enable the place to be put into better form again. Your manager Mr. Phillips, has put his back into the work and has got things moving alright. A continuation of the present vigorous policy coupled with the trees getting a much needed rest should see the estate as a very different proposition by the 1921-1922 season. If a sensible scheme can be put forward so as to stop flooding, so much the better. I believe this can be evolved if the rubber and tobacco managers co-operate on friendly and open-minded lines."

"That, gentlemen, is all I have to say, but before putting the formal resolutions to the meeting I shall be pleased to hear any remarks that anyone may wish to make or to answer any questions."

"There being no questions asked, the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

"That the report and accounts as presented be passed. Proposed by the chairman and seconded by Mr. Prentice.

That Mr. F. S. Jackson be re-elected as a director of the company. Proposed by Mr. S. M. Joseph, seconded by Dr. Clendenning.

That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be elected auditors for the ensuing year. Proposed by Dr. Clendenning and seconded by Mr. Joseph.

Tells House Committee England Can't Afford Race For Sea Power

SIR Philip Gibbs, noted British war correspondent, appearing before the House Committee in Washington, declared that England cannot afford and will not undertake a race with the United States for sea power. Sir Philip told the naval committee that the American navy was not regarded "as a menace" in England. He said the people of Great Britain would greet with approval an invitation from the United States for a disarmament conference.

36 Girls To Take Trip At Pastor's Expense

Globe Trotting Vicar Likes To Make Others Happy He Declares

London, Jan. 29.—A clergyman who can travel four times around the world without being financed by some organization is somewhat of a rarity. But the Rev. Frank Tatchell, vicar of Midhurst, Sussex, who holds this distinction, believes in bringing happiness to others as well, so he has decided to send thirty-six village girls on a trip abroad at his own expense. It is doubtful if the good vicar ever preached a sermon which aroused as much interest and comment as this announcement.

Twenty-four girls will be chosen from Midhurst and twelve from surrounding villages. As soon as the selections are made—the only conditions are that the girls must be natives or have permanent work in the town—they will be started out in groups of twelve, each group provided with chaperons.

This is not the first time, however, that Mr. Tatchell, who is a great believer in the educational advantages of travel, has expressed his generosity in this manner. In 1912 he paid all the expenses of thirty-three school teachers from the Midhurst district whom he sent on a tour of Europe.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

WILSON WILL KEEP QUIET 6 MONTHS

Plans To Bar Engagements And Callers In His New Washington Home

WRITING TO BE POSTPONED

Ex-President Seeks Quiet To Bridge Gap From Ten Years Of Public Life

Freed from the responsibilities of office which have weighed heavily upon him during his convalescence, Mr. Wilson, his friends say, will shut himself in for a period of rest and quiet in the new home he has purchased. He will deny himself to all callers except immediate members of his family, it is said, and a very few intimate friends with whom throughout his illness he has kept in contact.

No formal engagements of any character are expected to be made by the ex-President until he has thoroughly adjusted himself to private life after ten years in public service. Even the writing which he planned to do upon his retirement from the White House will be postponed for several months, his friends say.

Mr. Wilson is understood to have received a number of invitations to spend part of the Summer out of Washington, but it is regarded as unlikely that he will accept any of these.

For possibly six months, friends of the ex-President believe, his life will be wholly taken up with recreation. His chief diversion since his illness has been reading. He is said to have practically exhausted the field of detective stories, of which he has always been especially fond, and more recently has taken up novels and light stories. He has also given some time to reading political and historical works and poetry.

Since his resumption last week of his old custom of attending the theater, the ex-President is expected to continue as his health improves on find occasion more and more to avail himself of this form of recreation. He is also expected to continue his daily automobile rides.

Having suffered no ill effects from his visit to a theater last week—his first appearance in public since he was taken ill more than eighteen months ago—ex-President Wilson again attended the theater. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and her brother, John Randolph Bolling.

The ex-President chose a musical comedy in contrast with the heavier production, John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," which he saw on his first visit. He and his party reached the theater about five minutes before the performance began. As on his previous visit, he walked to one of the lower boxes aided only by a cane.

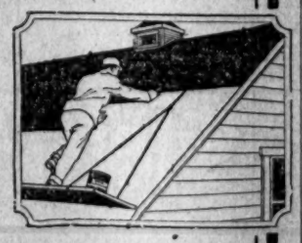
How Long Should a Felt Roof Last?
Without moisture in the air, it would last indefinitely, but humidity rapidly eats through unprotected felt and the roof soon begins to decay.
SHERWIN-WILLIAMS Ebonol (Black Bitumastic Paint)
FOR ROOFING AND WATERPROOFING

adds years of useful life to felt roofs that have no covering of gravel or asphalt.
It covers more surface (400 to 500 sq. feet per cwt.) at less cost (50% cheaper than oil paints). May be also used on metal, wood, brick or cement surfaces with equally good results.


Sold in 1 cwt. drums. Stocks carried in Shanghai and Outport Offices.

Cotton

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their cotton market report of today.

China Cotton:—Hardly any business worth while recording has taken place nor has there been any general demand for the local staple either for prompt or future delivery and it may be added that comparatively very little speculative transactions have been in evidence during the past week under review, which circumstances naturally brought about more of a bearish feeling in the trade and a tendency toward weaker markets which may disclose temporarily lower prices in the near future.

If we are to be guided by experiences in the past in a similar situation there is every reason to believe that the prevailing depression in trade in general has reached that critical period when pessimism has almost run its course to allow a more optimistic phase appearing on the scene and with such an outlook on the market there is every prospect of present purchases proving to be profitable at a not very distant date. Tone of the market weak.

Hongkong Share Market

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor write as follows in their weekly share report dated Hongkong, March 11:

We have had quite a brisk market during the past week with a considerable business passing in most stocks at generally higher prices.

The continued drop in sterling exchange having helped to firm up most dollar stocks.

The Shanghai Market has been on the quiet side with very little business passing.

Rubber is unchanged.

Hongkong Banks.—Have risen rapidly and close with an unsatisfied demand at $810 ex dividend.

Cantons.—Have come to business at $450.

HAS PHTHISIS CURES

Says Patients Have Had No Relapse In Six Years

Paris, Feb. 7.—After a lapse of about seven or eight years, Professor D'Arsonval, member of the Institute of the Academy of Medicine, has presented a second report to the French Academy of Sciences on the curative treatment of tuberculosis by a method discovered by the Swiss bacteriologist, Henry Spahlinger. The method was first applied in 1913 and 1914 in hospitals in England, France and Switzerland in the cases of patients suffering both from the minor forms of tuberculosis and advanced pathists.

Since that time those patients who were pronounced cured have been kept under observation. All of them are declared to be alive and in good health, and they have shown no symptoms of a relapse for the last six years, although they have undergone no further anti-tubercular treatment of any sort.

These results are vouched for, among others, by the London physician, Dr. Leonard L. B. Williams, Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine and other scientific bodies.

The treatment takes the form of injecting anti-toxins and ferments, which are modified according to the acute symptoms, then immunising the patient, completing the cure and preventing a relapse.

As originally described before the Academy of Medicine by Professor Letulle, the method consists of intra-muscular injections of a combination of antigenic solutions and ferments. It is asserted that the treatment causes the closure of abnormal lung cavities and the disappearance of the bacilli.

FIRE

North Soochow Road and North Thibet Road, March 11th, 1921.

The attention of all those concerned in the loss by fire on Buildings or Contents of Nos. 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64 and 65 North Soochow Road and Nos. 1, 4, 5 North Thibet Road or other premises suffering in the same fire, is directed to the following clause which is embodied in the conditions of all Insurance Companies' policies:—

On the happening of any loss or damage the Insured shall forthwith give notice in writing thereof to the Company, and shall within 15 days after the loss or damage, or such further time as the Company may in writing allow in that behalf, deliver to the Company:—

(a) A claim in writing for the loss and damage containing as particular an account as may be reasonably practicable of all the several articles or items of property damaged or destroyed, and of the amount of the loss or damage thereto respectively, having regard to their value at the time of the loss or damage, not including profit of any kind.

(b) Particulars of all other Insurances, if any.

The insured shall also at all times at his own expense produce, procure and give to the Company all such further particulars, plans, specifications, books, vouchers, invoice, duplicates, or copies thereof, documents, proofs, and information with respect to the claim and the origin and cause of the fire, and the circumstances under which the loss or damage occurred, and any matter touching the liability or the amount of the liability of the Company as may be reasonably required by or on behalf of the Company together with a declaration on oath or in other legal form of the truth of the claim and of any matters connected therewith.

No claim under this Policy shall be payable unless the terms of this condition have been complied with.

The assistance and co-operation of all Banks is requested in this connection.

Japan And The Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement

HOW will the signing of the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement affect the position of the Japanese army in Siberia? This trade agreement is but the forerunner of a formal treaty of peace between Great Britain and Russia. And Japan is not only allied to Great Britain but is one of the Allies. It would seem to us, therefore, that this new trade agreement, makes the position of the Japanese invaders of the Maritime Province more untenable than ever.

Actually however, Japan is reoccupying villages and towns in Siberia which only recently she evacuated. And it will be remembered that she made her evacuation the occasion of a fine outburst of promises and blandishments. Her official announcement fairly glowed in its expression of friendship and love for the suffering Siberians. Words, my dear Archibald, words!

For on March 4 we find the Chita Government appealing to the new American Administration and Congress for support against the aggressions of the Japanese. We give the message here in full:

"Address of the Constituent Assembly of the Far East to the American Senate and House of Representatives.
Washington.

"To the Chairman of the Senate.

"To the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

"In the solemn hour in the life of the Great American Republic when a new Administration and Congress take the fortune of the country in their hands in one of the most critical moments in the life of the civilised world, we, the representatives of the people of the Republic of the Far East, send to you, the representatives of the free and freedom-loving American people, our congratulation and appeal.

"For years our country, the Far Eastern territories of the former Russian Empire, has been the battle-ground for foreign invasion and internal civil war kept alive by foreign interference with the internal affairs of our people. Torn asunder on endless fronts, separated from Central Russia by the limitless Siberia, unwilling to become a base for the campaign against Russia, our people have risen to a man and taken the cause of their liberation in their own hands.

"Now the internal enemy is conquered. The greatest part of our country, cleared of foreign armies of intervention, is pacified. Only in the southern part of the Maritime Province scattered bands of Semenoff continue their lawless sway taking advantage of the illegal occupation of that territory by the Japanese expeditionary forces. Upon the vast territory east of the Baikal to the Pacific a new independent democratic state is being organised, separate and distinct in its form of government and social structure from the system prevailing in Soviet Russia.

"The Constituent Assembly of the Far East, elected upon the basis of universal suffrage and representing all classes of society, to lay down the foundation of the young Republic, look up to the great Republic across the Pacific for inspiration and assistance. It is the earnest hope of our people that the new Administration and Congress true to the great American ideal of freedom and self-determination will lend a helping hand to our young Republic in its struggle against intervention and for separate independent existence.

"Chairman of the Constituent Assembly Shiloff.

"Secreatry Suhovey.

"House of the Constituent Assembly of the Far East.

Chita, March 4, 1921."

And on the same date, the Chita Government through its Foreign Minister, Krasnoschekoff, sent the following note of protest to the Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"Memorandum of the Government of the Far Eastern Republic to Japan regarding removal of Japanese Forces.

"According to communications of the local authorities, the Japanese troops advanced beyond the limits of the thirty kilometer zone agreed upon on February 23. They occupied the villages of Yakovlevka, Evgonieffka, Pokrovka, and Sisoeffka. By this removal of forces into the sector whence the Japanese forces had been withdrawn the Japanese Command but complicates the situation without any cause. In the declaration of May 11, 1920 Commander of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces, General Oi, stated: 'Now that the transportation of the Czecho-Slovak troops is being completed, I openly declare that the Japanese Command will gladly withdraw its forces, as soon as stable order is established within the Russian possessions in the Far East.' In the same declaration it was emphasised that, together with the Russian population, the Japanese Command whole-heartedly welcomed organisation of the districts of the Eastern sector on the principles of self-government and establishment of a political system consistent with the will of the entire population; that the Japanese Command will welcome the moment when guaranteed enactment of the system mentioned and tranquilisation of the region will warrant the possibility of withdrawal of the troops.

"I do not in the least doubt that the above stated is not only the wish of the Japanese command but also of our government and nation. From the point of view of the Japanese Government this moment has come long ago; for in the declaration of July 3, 1920 it announced the withdrawal of forces from Transbaikal. Commander of the Expeditionary Forces, General Oi, on the basis of the declaration mentioned, solemnly declared on September 15: 'Now in view of the improvement of the political situation in this sector (Sector of Habarovsk) I announce the withdrawal of our troops from it. At the same time I express my sincere desire for speedy unification of the Russian Far East., that the peace and welfare of its population, and the strengthening of the good-neighborly relations of the two nations, the Russian and Japanese—may thus be guaranteed.'

"In the solemn hour when the Constituent Assembly, composed of plenipotentiary representatives of all the people of the Russian Far East, is intensely working on the consummate formation of the Far Eastern Republic, when the work on final unification of the Far East is being completed, when in all localities left by the Japanese forces peace and order are reigning, at such a moment the occupation anew by Japanese forces of localities once evacuated, is an utterly unjustifiable act, grossly contradictory to the many assurances given by the Japanese Command. This act Assumes a still graver aspect because simultaneously some unknown persons are disseminating malicious rumors of alleged preparations by partisans for military activity in the Maritime Province, and of like preparations for aggressive activity by the forces of the Far Eastern Republic.

"The Government of the Far Eastern Republic has repeatedly declared, and now again declares that it has absolutely no aggressive intentions or plans concerning the Japanese forces. The Government has done and is doing everything possible for the purpose of peaceful liquidation of the Japanese intervention, for the establishment of the most friendly relations between the population of the Far East and the Japanese people, but to its great regret the Government is compelled to state that all its efforts to efface from the memory of the population the sad recollections in connection with the inimical activity of the Japanese forces on Russian territory may prove futile, if the Japanese Command persists in its policy of transferring troops to localities once evacuated and thus again excite the population—not the strengthening of democratic statesmanship but, vice versa, demoralisation of such."

That is the position at the moment. Pressure of public opinion not only throughout the rest of the world but in Japan itself ought certainly, and within a very few months, force the retirement of the Japanese forces from Siberia. It is a matter of constant surprise to observers of Far Eastern affairs that Japanese statesmen continue to fail to understand and appreciate the false position their Siberian army is in, and the perils involved in their adherence to a policy that never was sound and that continues to grow more unsound and unsafe day by day.

NOT IN THE ARMY, AFTER ALL

A Methodist negro exhorter shouted: "Come up en jine de army ob de Lohrd."

"Ise done jined," replied one of the congregation.

"Whar'd yoh jine?" asked the exhorter.

"In de Baptis' Chu'ch."

"Why, chile," said the exhorter, "yoh ain't in the army; yoh's in de navy."

Some Waist!

A woman of ample proportions was giving a lecture on the human form divine. Her manner was of the type familiarly known as "high-brow;" it was, in fact, irritatingly supercilious and lofty.

"For example," said she, "twice round my thumb"—she held it up—"once round my wrist; twice round my wrist, once round my neck; twice round my neck, once round my waist."

Here she paused, and a shrill voice from the audience exclaimed:

"Twice round your waist, once round the park!"

The lecturer hastily passed on to another branch of the subject.

Impressions Of America

Sky-Scrapers And H. C. L. Were Prominent In 1905

BY COUNT WITTE

Life is very expensive in America. For instance, you cannot give the elevator-boy a tip less than a dollar (two roubles in terms of our money), so that at the large hotels small coin does not exist, as it were. Naturally, I had to lay out quite a few thousand roubles from my own pocket, in addition to the twenty thousand roubles which was my allowance for the trip to the United States. Wherever I went in New York I was met with much enthusiasm and much pomp. For instance, when I appeared in the Stock Exchange, to honor me all business was stopped for ten minutes. Among other institutions, I visited the Military Academy (West Point) which supplies the American army with officers. The school is situated on the Hudson River, at the distance of some three hours from New York City, and is luxuriously equipped. I was received there with great pomp, and the cadets, all full-grown men in smart uniforms, were reviewed for my benefit. I was not the only one visiting the Academy that day. It happened, as a matter of chance that the Japanese army officers attached to Komura had also come there to see the school. I noticed that they were very unhappy, for the reason that no one paid any attention to them. Having taken notice of their awkward predicament, I approached them, greeted them, and asked them to join me. They thanked me and kept close to me all the while, forming a part of my retinue, as it were. The parade was very beautiful, and at one time the cadets marched to the strains of "God Save the Tsar." When the sounds of that wonderful hymn burst forth I bared my head, and so did all those present.

WITH MR. J. P. MORGAN

I came to West Point on board J. P. Morgan's yacht. I met that famous banker and industrial king several times during my stay in the United States. A man of fabulous wealth, he is the most influential financier in America. Morgan has a palace in New York City, but he practically lives on board his yacht. In that craft he crosses the ocean, cruises in the Mediterranean, etc. He believes, not without reason, that life on the sea is the healthiest mode of living, and accordingly he tries to spend most of his time at sea. During my stay in the United States I ate only one decent luncheon and dinner, and that was on board Morgan's yacht, on the day of my visit to West Point. At the hotel we paid fabulous sums for our dinner (30 to 40 roubles per plate), and yet the food was exceedingly bad.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Upon my return to New York from Portsmouth, Columbia University, in the city of New York, bestowed upon me the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. I spent a whole morning at that institution of higher learning examining the buildings and talking to the professors. They received me very cordially, and I was greatly flattered by their attention. Externally, Columbia University is richer than Harvard. I also caught a glimpse of the student body, for the university was already open. I was greatly impressed by the importance attributed in America to physical education. Columbia University includes a large building entirely devoted to gymnastics and games. While examining the economics division of the Columbia library, I remember, I asked the professor of political economy whether he expounded to his students Henry George's single tax doctrine. He assured me that Henry George was studied in his classes very carefully. "In the first place," he said, "Henry George is one of our most gifted writers. Besides, I consider it useful to acquaint my students with his views on the land problem, for the purpose of exposing its fallaciousness." Many of our homespun economists and also our great writer but naive thinker, Leo Tolstoy, would do well to go to school to that American teacher. I was also very curious to know wether student riots and disturbances, such as are customary in Russia, were possible in the American universities. The idea apparently never occurred to the professors. Should any student attempt, they said, to devote himself at the university to other activities than study, he would be immediately cast out of the school by his own comrades.

WASHINGTON'S HOUSE

I took a trip to the city of Washington, which is the official capital of the United States. There I visited the President's White House, the Senate, the Congress, and the Congressional Library. In the vicinity of that city there is the house where the great Washington—the maker, so to speak, of the present United States of America—dived and died. It is situated on the banks of a river. The ships sailing by salute it, and the passers-by take off their hats to it. It may be said that the Americans revere this building like a sacred relic. They surely know how to honor their great men. Visitors to George Washington's house and little farm are usually shown the spot where he and his wife are buried. One can also see the room where the great man died, and the apartment occupied by the French General, Lafayette, who helped to build up the newborn Republic. Near the house there is a special enclosure for trees, each planted by a prominent visitor. I, too, was asked to plant a tree there. I do not know what has become of it.

STUDENTS AS WAITERS

While sightseeing in New York I was struck by the appearance of the skyscrapers. I even ventured to go up in an elevator to the top of one such monster, thirty-seven stories high. There was a light breeze blowing, and I could feel the top room swaying. Some of the peculiar features of American life greatly amazed me. Thus, for instance, I could not for a long time get accustomed to the idea that most of the waiters in the hotels and restaurants which I visited were university students. Attracted by the high wages—they often amount to as much as $100 a month—the students cheerfully enter the service of hotels and restaurants and earn enough during the summer months to keep them afloat during the winter. These students did not seem to be ashamed of the menial duties of their occupation. They wore the waiters' outfit, served the guests, and removed the dishes from the tables, all without the slightest embarrassment; but, once the meal was over, they would change their clothes, sometimes put on their fraternity insignia, court the girls who stayed at the hotel, walk with them in the park, play tennis, etc. Then when meal time came, they would put on their regulation outfit and be metamorphosed into waiters. This is altogether impossible in Russia. Our students would live on ten or twenty rubles a month, or even starve, rather than demean themselves by doing the work of a servant. This probably holds true of other European countries.

I was also shocked to see girls of good families, who stayed at our hotel, promenading in the dark in the company of young men. A girl and a youth, tete-a-tete, would walk away into the forest, the park, and stroll there for hours alone, or else they would take out a boat and row on the lake, and no one would find that reprehensible. During our stay at Portsmouth some of the members of the Mission, including myself, were often with two charming young girls who lived with their mothers in the neighborhood of our hotel. We would have tea with them, and the young folk stayed in the house far into the night. I noticed that no one considered their behavior either unusual or improper. At Portsmouth, for purposes of recreation, I often spent an hour or so on the open beach watching the surf. At Biarritz, in Europe, the ocean is impressive enough, but it lacks the grandiose quality and the magnificence with which it is invested at the American shores.

I was surprised to see the attitude of the American public to the secret service. One day I was riding in an automobile in New York, accompanied by one of the secret service agents who were attached to my person. We reached a congested thoroughfare, where ordinary mortals usually wait quite some time before they can proceed on their way. The agent showed his badge to the traffic policeman, the latter waved his hand, the stream of traffic stopped as if by magic, and we drove on. I imagine the storm of indignation which such an action of the police would raise in Russia, in monarchist Russia.

'One Minute Late'

Punctuality is an old-fashioned virtue, but life would be a mess without it.

A worker in a plant with a time clock complains that when he is one minute late he is docked an hour. "This is unjust," he says.

Look at the other side.

Two thousand men work in that plant. If many of them got into the habit of being late, the work of all the others would suffer, to say nothing of the loss to the management. For the good of all, there simply Must be insistence on punctuality.

Take a lesson from baseball. The home team is in the field, the score is tied, two men are on bases, with two out, and the man at bat knocks a swift grounder toward second.

The shortstop is playing deep, but he starts at the crack of the bat. He retrieves the ball, throws accurately to first and retires the side. That game is safe.

Suppose he had been a minute late!

Business just now is about in the state of tension of that ball game. If it is to win, there must be good team play. It is not a time in which anybody can afford to loiter.

A story is told of the late Samuel Spencer. The trains of his railroad were frequently late. He resolved to correct the service. As the train to which his special car was attached one day drew into its terminal he looked at his watch. It registered exactly noon—the time of scheduled arrival.

He sent for the engineer.

"My friend," the great railway executive said, beaming, "do you know what you have done? You have broken the record; you have arrived on time. My congratulations; also, here is $10."

The engineer reached for the money, fumbled it, then sadly handed it back. "I am sorry to have to tell you, Mr. Spencer," he said, "but I cannot take your present, for the truth is this is yesterday's train."

Today cannot ride on yesterday's train. Today has to be on time. "One minute late" is just one minute too late to keep a man abreast of the procession.

How To Make Soups At Home

BY LORETTO C. LYNCH
(An Acknowledged Expert In All Matters Pertaining To Household Management)

Instead of being an expensive dish, the good cook finds the soup pot a great economy. For into it may go the bone left from the steak, bits of left-over roast meat, the odds and ends of vegetables that too often find their way into the garbage can.

Of course in the small family, where only sufficient food is bought for one meal, there may not be left-overs in any sufficient quantity to form the basis of a soup. In this case, I know one young housewife who gets a start for her soup by purchasing one of the canned soups and then adding to it whatever small quantity of left-overs she has.

If you are keeping house on any considerable scale, it will pay you to make the basis for your soups at home. Half a pound of fresh meat and bone added to the bits of left-over meat and bone and any left-over vegetables is a good way to make a delicious soup.

The more the meat is cut up the easier will it be to extract the nutritive value. Moreover, the water with which the meat is covered should be cold and a little salt added to it. This should be very gradually heated to the boiling point and then gently simmered for the required time. If a vegetable is already sufficiently cooked, do not add it to the soup until near the end of the cooking.

Minced onion adds flavor to any of these soups and is a good way of putting onion into the diet if the family objects to eating onions in other ways.

Carrots are inexpensive and may be cut into small pieces and added to soup rather near the beginning, the length of time of their cooking depending upon the age of the carrot and the size pieces into which they are cut.

Two rounding tablespoons of rice, washed and picked over, is enough rice to add to two or even three quarts of soup. Rice swells in cooking and the mistake of the novice in adding rice to soup is to add much too much. The same is true of barley. Either rice or barley should be added about one hour before the soup is taken from the fire. The soup should be stirred occasionally so that the rice may not be sticking to the bottom.

There is a meatless soup, however, which tastes mighty like a meat soup and is greatly liked by even the over-particular. For it half a cup each of raw carrot cubes, potato cubes and one small onion cut-up, should be browned in either dripping, oil or butter. If the latter is used, care must be taken not to burn the butter.

When they are browned, they are placed in the soup pot and the pan upon which they browned rinsed with boiling water. To this material in the pot, two quarts of water is added and one-half level teaspoon of salt. The soup is cooked gently until the vegetables fall apart. Then the soup and its vegetables is put through a strainer. One teaspoon of any good kitchen bouquet such as is used for browning gravies is added. The soup is then returned to the pot.

Two slices of bread, from which the crust has been trimmed, is cut into cubes. These are rolled in a well-beaten egg. The cubes are then returned to the pot of boiling soup and cooked until the egg sets. Pepper or any other desired seasoning may be used.

Jumping Mice

These Amusing Animals Are Found in Glacier National Park

One of the most interesting of the smaller animals found in Glacier National Park is the Rockaway Mountain jumping mouse, according to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bailey. Mr. Bailey is Chief Field Naturalist of the Bureau of Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture.

Jumping mice are graceful, slender little animals with very long tails and long hind legs and feet. They are kangaroo-like in build and form, with tiny "hands" that are rarely used for aid in traveling. Their slender tails are much longer than the head and body and their rich buffy sides, dark buffy gray backs, white bellies and pointed ears combine to make an animal of unusual beauty. They are common in the park region and often are the principal animals caught in a line of mouse traps.

They live mainly in the meadows and open grassy slopes, where there is ample cover of grass, plants and bushes for their protection. They do not make runways and their presence is rarely detected unless they are occasionally seen when disturbed in the daytime bounding away from one's feet in long leaps through the grass.

Their Summer nests are usually placed on the surface of the ground and are well concealed by sheltering vegetation. These are neat little balls of grass with a hole in one and sometimes in two sides to serve as doorways. As one steps near a nest the mouse usually bounds out and gives two or three long leaps and then stops to wait for further developments. By noting the place where it stops and by creeping up cautiously one can almost invariably catch the mouse by clapping the hand down quickly over it. When thus captured it does not seem much alarmed, and when held gently in the hands for a little time beromes quiet and may be examined at leisure.

The mice rarely offer to bite and seem much more gentle in disposition than most species. If suspended by the tip of the tail one will almost invariably curl up until it can reach the base of the tail with its "hands" and then, like a sailor climbing a rope, come hand over hand up the tail to the fingers holding it. If shaken down it will repeat the operation again and again, much to the amusement of the onlookers and with no harm to the ropelike tail.

The food of jumping mice consists mainly of seeds of grasses and other small plants. To obtain the seed-laden needs of tall grasses they reach up and cut off the stem and draw it down until the seeds are brought within reach. These are eaten and other stems are cut and drawn down in the same manner until a good square meal is obtained. The sections of grass stems thus cut are usually three or four inches long and can always be recognised as the work of this mouse, in distinction from those of the other mice with shorter legs that cannot reach so high and consequently cut their grass stems into shorter sections. Little heaps of these long grass sections scattered through the meadows will often indicate the presence and abundance of the species and give the naturalist a clue to places where his traps will yield specimens.

The four to eight young are born in the grass nests, and by early Autumn have become almost full grown and are laying in a supply of fat for Winter. Unlike most of our native mice they are laying up stores of food, but become exceeding fat, and with the first cold weather of Autumn enter a long period of hibernation. Soft, warm Winter nests are constructed in little cavities well under the ground, and in these the mice curl up for their long Winter sleep. Usually they are not again seen until the snow has disappeared in April or May.

Lunch Dishes Minus Meat

TOMATO TOAST WITH CHEESE

Six slices bread, 1 cupful milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoonfuls butter, salt, pepper, 3 tomatoes, cheese and paprika (210 protein calories, 1,356 total calories).

Beat the egg until light and add to it the milk and one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper. Dip the bread, cut in rather thick slices, into this mixture, allowing the slices to absorb all of it. Then lift them carefully to a greased pan and dot butter over them, using one teaspoonful of butter to each slice. On each slice of bread lay a thick slice of tomato, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and on top of the tomato lay a thin slice of cheese dusted with paprika. Bake in a hot oven or under a broiler flame until the tomato is tender and the cheese and bread are delicately browned.

CORN-MEAL RAREBIT

One pint boiling water, half cupful granulated cornmeal, 1 teaspoonful salt, few grains cayenne pepper, 1 cupful milk, 1 cupful grated cheese, 2 tablespoonfuls butter, 2 tablespoonfuls flour, 1 teaspoonful minced parsley (198 protein calories, 1,176 total calories).

Add the corn-meal slowly to the boiling water, in which one-half teaspoonful of salt has been placed. Cook five minutes over direct heat and then one hour over hot water. Pour into a greased, shallow pan and let cool. When cold, cut in small squares, place in a greased pan, and cover with cheese sauce made as follows: In a saucepan melt the butter, add the flour, and cook until bubbling; then add the milk gradually. When thickened, add the rest of the salt, the cayenne pepper, the cheese, and parsley. Cook until the cheese is melted and pour over the corn-meal mixture. Brown delicately under the broiler flame or in a hot oven and serve at once. Crisp bacon curls are an excellent accompaniment to this dish. This recipe will serve four.

William Archer's Stories

William Archer, distinguished British critic, who is in America supervising the production of his melodrama "The Green Goddess," tells these stories:

At a recent London dinner George Bernard Shaw was the guest of honor. The toastmaster in introducing him said that a certain club in London recently had voted on "who are the three most famous living Englishmen?" The balloting showed George Bernard Shaw, Lloyd George and Charlie Chaplin far in the lead.

"And I can't help wondering," said the toastmaster, "how Mr. Shaw likes the company in which he finds himself."

"I don't mind Charlie," spoke up Mr. Shaw.

The other story is of a young Turkish envoy who recently called at the British Foreign Office. He spoke excellent dictionary English, but as he was about to leave he said:

"I will no further cockroach on your time."

"Really," said the Secretary to whom he was speaking, "I must tell you we don't use that word in that way."

"I quite understand," said the Turk, "If I were speaking to a lady, I should say 'henroach.'"

Lenin Says Labor Imperils His System

Union's Fight For Supremacy Will Break Up Soviet State, He Warns

Copenhagen, Feb. 7.—The Petrograd Pravda prints an article by Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik Premier, declaring that the fight between the labor unions and the Soviets for supremacy will break up the whole Bolshevist State system unless a settlement is soon reached.

The article, which is captioned: "The Communist Party In a Crisis," declares that the majority of the Russian Laborites are too selfish. "They are out for material benefit to themselves at the expense of the general welfare of the communist State," it says.

Stockholm, Feb. 7.—Addressing the Moscow Soviet recently, War Minister Trotsky argued that nothing must be done to irritate Japan, says a Helsingfors despatch. Japanese neutrality and German sympathy, he declared, were necessary for the Soviet when it was beginning a war in the Near East.

Trotsky also advocated the maintenance of an army of 2,000,000, delay in the conclusion of peace with Poland, the concentration of Soviet troops in the neighborhood of the Baltic States and the Finnish frontier and the most friendly relations with Germany, from whom, he said, war materials were procurable.

CAPTIVE 3 YEARS IN INDIA

Woman, Whose Husband Was Murdered, Reaches Home

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The memory of unspeakable sufferings while a prisoner of the wild native tribes of India, although now many thousands of miles behind her, still is poignant in the mind of Mrs. Sophia Badal of Cleveland, who, with her three small children, landed here last night from the British freighter Kingsbury.

After the murder of her husband, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy of the University of Pennsylvania, by inhabitants of India who considered him an evil sorcerer, the widow and her little family were forced to live for three years among the natives of the interior.

The family crossed to India in 1913. Two years later the husband, a druggist, was murdered, and for the following three years Mrs. Badal made futile efforts to reach some port on the coast.

Finally escaping and making her way with great hardship over the rugged country, she reached Bombay, and sought aid from the American Consul there. He induced Thomas K. Ellis, Captain of the Kingsbury, to book the Badal family as supercargoes on his ship.

Mrs. Badal left this morning for Cleveland.
